

HDFS Scholarship Descriptions

2009-2010

Northeast Chapter of 604 AARP Scholarship

Awarded to students who are in good academic standing and majoring in Human Development and Family Studies.

Elna E. Daniels Scholarship

Awarded to a fifth or sixth semester student who has successfully completed one or more courses in human nutrition. Scholastic standing and financial need are also considered.

Nellie A. Gard Scholarship Fund

Awarded to a student in Human Development and Family Studies, with a minimum GPA of 2.3. Selections “will not be on the basis of grades alone, but upon general standing and work of the individual”.

Audrey L. Jarrelle Fund

Awarded to a full time undergraduate student in Human Development and Family Studies who requires financial support and has also demonstrated academic achievement.

Clyde A. Jones Scholarship Fund

Awarded to a junior or senior student majoring in Human Development and Family Studies with a concentration in Early Childhood Education. Student must demonstrate high academic achievement and professional promise with creative potential.

Margaret Fraser Lindsay Scholarship

Awarded to a woman who is majoring in Human Development and Family Studies and/or intends to work with families or children.

Ardele Valcourt Loughlin Scholarship

Awarded annually to a student in Human Development and Family Studies who not only has the highest academic average by the end of sophomore year, but also shows an interest in foods and nutrition.

E. Charlotte Rogers Scholarship Fund

Awarded annually to a deserving junior or senior in Human Development and Family Studies, this scholarship is partially based on high academic standing.

Dr. Howard A. Rosencranz Memorial Scholarship Fund

Awarded to students enrolled full time in Human Development and Family Studies. Student must be academically outstanding and pursuing undergraduate or graduate coursework in adult development and aging.

The Frederic C. Teich Award

Award to a junior or senior demonstrating talent in an artistic field. Priority consideration will go to undergraduate students in Human Development and Family Studies, but awards may be made to a student or students in any school of the university demonstrating outstanding talent in creative design. The criteria to be considered by the scholarship committee in selection of award recipients include past academic achievement, and demonstration of potential for future academic and professional accomplishments. Although financial need may be considered as a criterion, it should not be considered the determinant factor in selecting students.

Dorothy E. Vail Home Economics Fund

Awarded to students who are in good academic standing and are majoring in Human Development and Family Studies.

Lucy Allen Wyman Scholarship

Awarded to a student in Human Development and Family Studies that has completed at least four semesters. Preference will be given to students who are graduates of Woodstock Academy or its successor. The criteria to be considered by the scholarship committee in selection of scholarship recipients include past academic achievement, and demonstration of potential for future academic and professional accomplishments. Although financial need may be considered as a criterion, it should not be considered the determinant factor in selecting recipients.

Raymond and Jeanne Bartman Scholarship in Family Studies

Awarded to a full-time sophomore, junior, or senior majoring in, or demonstrate intent to declare a major in, Family Studies who requires financial support. The student should declare, or demonstrate intent to declare, a concentration in any one of the following five areas of family study: childhood and adolescence, early childhood development and education, adult development and aging, services and counseling, or policy and planning.